OUR SHOW WITH ELLIOT ARONOW

Creative director to a purely online label (RCRD LBL), Elliot Aronow decided it was time to spread a serious message in print with his new zine, Our Show With Elliot Aronow. "Having a magazine meant people would take Our Show and what I was saying seriously. You could hold it, roll a doobie on it, hang the centrefold on the fridge, pass it along to your cousin in Queens..."

His first issue covers investing in a suit (bespoke), sheets (that will age gracefully) and a Le Creuset skillet (in black, black no. 1 black), while issue two will get heavy with the Our Show guide to wine and a Chromeo primer to French literature. "It's a punk GQ," he says.
